ENVIRONMENTAL REVIEW

Overview

OEE is responsible for oversight of the HUD's compliance with the National Environmental Policy Act (NEPA) for HUD-funded programs and projects. An environmental review is the process of reviewing a project to determine whether it meets federal, state, and local environmental standards. The environmental review process ensures that the proposed project does not negatively impact the surrounding environment and that it does not have a significant adverse effect on the environment or health effect on end users. Not every project is subject to a full environmental review (i.e., the extent of this examination varies), but every project must be in compliance with NEPA and other applicable laws.
