Hello Anthony,

Thank you for calling us about the identity theft issue.

I understand that Chase Bank in your local area has created multiple accounts under your name without your authorization.

This email is to confirm that you have reached out to our office about this issue. I will follow up with you after researching on what we can do.

Best,

Sally Lim*Intern(949) 223-5472 | sally.lim@sen.ca.govsd37.senate.ca.gov

This is what I am getting from the Congresswoman. Her office has not done anything yet, I have made suggestions like referring me immediately to a special agent.

And I don't have any idea what my name means in her system. I don't understand why I haven't been able to report a POTENTIAL CRIME IN PROGRESS regarding MY FED ID THEFT CASE.

I have tried all day and watched my PII literally change or be exposed as wrong or worse.

Thank you for your time

A.dimarcello

Look at my name next to my email address in the sent line. Not good.

Hello Anthony,

I'm sorry to hear that the issue hasn't been resolved.

Unfortunately, as a state legislative office, we're unable to do casework on your behalf as we can only directly work with state agencies. Chase Bank is its own bank, in which large banks are typically federally regulated. If you'd like to report a potential crime in progress, I'd suggest reaching out to the Orange County District Attorney's Office here.

As for the email that you have forwarded over, it is likely a spam. The California Department of Insurance typically provides free resources to protect our constituents against scams. Our office recently partnered with them in providing these resources, in which you can watch the recording of the webinar here: <https://sd37.senate.ca.gov/video/senior-scam-stopper-webinar> .

Best regards,

Thank you for the quick response. I am at a standstill and not really sure how to digest the activities I have just witnessed by virtually every entity involved in the process of restoring my identity and making me whole again financially. Uni

I have not gotten a response from Congresswoman Porters office and I am not sure who to trust or how to proceed with what I have discovered in the last week.

If you have a special agent in your office that can reach out to me I would greatly appreciate it.
I have a great deal of respect for
National Security, but my morals are being challenged to go public with this and I suspect my attack is not a rare anomaly.
I fear that I am now in physical danger or that
I could be quickly targeted if I began to spread the word publicly about what I am witnessing.

I will contact the local police at some point today, I am really not sure how to proceed and I do not want to make any costly mistakes. I may have been able to handle two years of hell and not crumble, but I don't think I have it in me to survive the rest of this battle to be made whole again

My faith demands that I alarm others and I do not know how big of a threat this is or how aggressive it will become when cornered, but I will not let anyone else waste more of my energy and I hope
I do not have to write off anyone else that is supposed to be on my side.

Please advise me and call me or have a special agent reach out immediately that understands data breaches and tech related crimes.

Sincerely
Anthony DiMarcello

Hello Anthony,

Unfortunately, we don't work with special agents as a state legislative office.

I'd suggest resolving this issue directly with the bank or resolve the issue with the Orange County District Attorney's Office here, as this is out of our state legislative jurisdiction.

Best regards,

Sally Lim

Thank you for your email. The office you contacted does not handle consumer complaints about consumer financial products or services.

The best way to submit a complaint, or to check an existing complaint's status, is to go to www.consumerfinance.gov/complaint.

Submitting a complaint online usually takes 7-10 minutes and you can attach supporting documents. If you have a question or can't submit online, call us tollfree:

- (855) 411-CFPB (2372) or
- TTY/TDD (855) 729-CFPB (2372)

Submitting a complaint over the phone usually takes 25- 30 minutes. We're available to help you Monday through Friday, from 8am–8pm EST (except federal holidays).

To learn more about common financial issues, go to www.consumerfinance.gov/ask-cfpb/.

Don't have a complaint, but want to share an experience— good or bad? Tell your story at www.consumerfinance.gov/your-story/.

Thank you again for your time regarding this matter. My family attorney only handles criminal law but I do feel comfortable talking to him more in depth. I understand you have a meeting to attend to but if you can send me an email confirming our conversation in your own words, it will help him understand that any assistance from him will help. Also I would be legally bound to only send the email to him. His name is Keith Bruno, his practice is in Newport. I would like to send the email to my sister as well who is homicide detective. As of now they do not know the urgency of this matter and I don't think I can create that urgency to them alone.

Thank you and the Senator again for your time and your offices resources to help my family get past this and also helping me keep my professional responsibilities from being eroded by criminals.

Sincerely,

Anthony Michael DiMarcello III

Hello Anthony,

Thank you for letting me know about the identity theft issue at Chase Bank, alongside your identity theft insurance company and Consumer Financial Protection Bureau (CFPB). I understand that Chase Bank in your local area has created multiple accounts under your name without your authorization, along with the attempted correspondence between you, CFPB, and Chase Bank. You have also expressed about facing hardship in housing and employment, which are caused from identity theft. Please note that we cannot receive your bank statement as it contains your private information.

As a state legislative office, we're unable to do casework on your behalf as we can only directly work with state agencies. Chase Bank is its own bank and large banks are typically federally regulated. Since CFPB is also federally run, I'd also recommend reaching out to one of your federal representatives (the offices of Representative Porter or Senator Butler or Senator Padilla) for help resolving the identity theft issues. I'll include links to contact them here:

<https://porter.house.gov/contact/>

<https://www.butler.senate.gov/services/federal-agency-assistance/>

<https://www.padilla.senate.gov/contact/>

Sorry to hear about the disruption this is causing.

Best regards,

Sally Lim

Hello Sally,

Thank you again for your help
I won't be able to email soon and I am trying to contact the Senator and Congress you emailed me. I am on the street in the rain and have not had any communication back. I need a hotel room now to resolve this matter or it will continue to get worse. I am going to be forced to try and get immediate assistance from sources outside of the govt regarding sensitive information and that's not ok but I m quickly runih out of option
Please call and supply me with. A hotel room as close as possible to newland ave and PCH in Huntington beach

Hello Sabrina,

Please confirm you received this email.

The Senators office is recognizing Chase and my accts being compromised without Chase wanting to admit the issues and continuing to lie to the govt. and your company.

Chase was the only bank I have used in the last decade. They should not be relevant in this case.

Please pay out my ID Theft Insurance policy for the max amount.

Thank You,
